VOL. LXI: No. 5 REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1921. ESTABLISHED 1859

DECISION IN M'GRATH CASE RENDERED BY JUDGE GEO. H. BUCK IN FAVOR OF THE DEFENDANT

The case of Selina McGrath as administratrix of the estate of James B. McGrath against John McGrath and others was decided in the superior court Monday in favor of the defendants. Plaintiff and husband lived in Los Gatos and conducted a large summer resort there. They prospered and accumulated considerable property. They had no children and as they advanced in years troubles arose over their property and during the year 1917 they divided it, the husband going to make his home with his brother, John McGrath, at San Mateo, who is a prominent citizen of that section of the county. Shortly before his death James B McGrath transferred all of his estate, amounting to in all of about $14,000, to defendants. The plaintiff began two suits against John McGrath to recover the property and alleged that her husband was of unsound mind when he made the transfer. She was represented in the suit by Jenkins & [illegible] of San Jose and Bert Schlesinger of San Francisco. John McGrath and his entire family were joined in the suits and they were represented by James T. O'Keefe of this city.

Considerable testimony was taken in the trial and the widow testified that an equal division of the property was made in 1917 and both were satisfied. A number of Los Gatos residents testified that the deceased had peculiarities and a dislike for the Jews, but no testimony was offered to show that his mind was unsound at the time of the transfer and on the contrary defendants showed that at that time he was perfectly sane. The main witness to the transfer was N. J. McNamara, the foreman of the recent grand jury, and he testified that the transfer was made in the usual way and that McGrath was perfectly sane. The other witnesses called by the defendants were Coulombe Boland, J. B. Faley, Michael Brennan and wife and others who had known the deceased and all were of the opinion that he was of sound mind. Judge Buck has written a very able opinion covering the facts and the law in the case and it is as follows:

McGrath vs. McGrath, No. 7777.
McGrath vs. McGrath No. 7772

The above two cases were tried and submitted at the same time and upon the same briefs. The attorneys for the plaintiffs have kindly confined the issues to both of these cases to one fact and that is as to the condition of the mind of James B. McGrath at the time of the transfer of the property mentioned in the complaint herein, they claiming that at such time James B. Mc Grath was insane. It is admitted by both parties hereto that in 1917 the plaintiff and James B. McGrath, wife and husband, had some personal differences and divided their property, the plaintiff getting the hotel Lyndon at Los Gatos and James B. Mc Grath getting a ranch and some lots at Burlingame. The ranch he afterwards sold and deposited the money received therefor in the First National Trust Company. In 1920 he drew out of this Trust Company this money and turned it over to his brother John McGrath, who at once deposited it in his name in the same Trust Company. Soon thereafter James B. McGrath died.

It being admitted that if the Court finds James B. McGrath was not insane, that he had sufficient mentality to act for himself at the time these transfers were made that as far as this Court is concerned settles these cases and at the same time saves the Court's consideration of certain legal questions involved herein. Was James B. McGrath insane at the time of the transfers of the property in question herein? From the evidence it seems that James B. McGrath and the plaintiff had been husband and wife for many years and had succeeded in accumulating much property. These parties were known to the Court and if the Court could go outside of the record I would say that both of these parties had the best of reputations and had good business tact, much above the average. As to the division of the property in 1917 no complaint is made. In this division the plaintiff got all of the property she would have been entitled to if she had at that time been acting as administratrix of her husband's estate. James B. McGrath having after this division of property disposed of his share it is now claimed that he was at that time insane and was not legally competent and to sustain this position the plaintiff introduced at the trial witnesses who testified that James B. McGrath was insane for many years prior to this transfer of property and was insane at the time of the division of the property between husband and wife in 1917. There is no evidence presented by plaintiff as to the insanity of James B. McGrath at the time this transfer of money was made in 1920, but the plaintiff claims he was insane prior to that time and hence from this testimony this Court must find he was insane, was of unsound mind and was subject to certain insane hallucinations and delusions at the time this transfer was made. As suggested James B. McGrath in 1917 made a division of his property with his wife and at that time some and a majority of the witnesses produced by plaintiff claim he was insane, that this insanity of his was an affliction that rested upon him for many years prior to his death and prior to the year 1917. Most of these opinions were based upon his opposition to a certain class of people. I have grave doubts about such opposition showing insanity but simly think it a case of bad judgment. If such testimony would establish that fact, insanity charges might be made against many people including Henry Ford. At the time some of the witnesses testified that James B. McGrath was insane he was conducting the hotel Lyndon at Los Gatos, paying his help and the printer who did the printing connected with the hotel and hiring help and paying the help, traveling and transacting business generally, in fact doing those things that a man occupying his position would naturally and generally do. It is true he had his eccentricities and at times they were marked, but such as they were they do not show that they incapacitated him from attending to business. The question of putting poison into his food while annoying is not uncommon. If the Court considers as true the testimony given at the time of the trial herein as to what occurred at the time this money was transferred in the Federal Trust Company in 1920 to the defendant John McGrath by his brother James B. McGrath And the Court places much confidence in that testimony, then James B. McGrath was in his right mind at that time and knew perfectly well what he was doing and was quite insistent that the transfer should be made in a certain way. In fact no question was raised as to the mental condition of James B. McGrath until after his death. The property he disposed of was his as testified to by the plaintiff. He had a perfect right to give it to his brother the defendant with whom he was making his home. The disposition of the property seems fair and entirely reasonable. Each of the spouses got that to which he or she was entitled. These peculiarities and habits of his had existed for many years during all of which time much business was transacted by him even with the plaintiff and there is nothing to show that the disposition of this property was in any way caused or affected by these so-called delusions.

The recent case of "In re McGuirks Estate, 195 Pacific Reporter, page 279" and the cases therein cited seems to be decisive of this case.

The plaintiff has received her share of this property and James B. McGrath had a right to give his share to the defendant and with that right the Court will not interfere. The sole issue here being as to the unsoundness of mind of James B. McGrath at the time these transfers were made the Court finds that he was not of unsound mind, was not insane and judgment will be for defendants.

GEO. H. BUCK,
April 25, 1921 Judge.

WOODSIDE NEWS NOTES

Antone Daniel Alves of Mayfield, but formerly of Portola, pasesd away at the Peninsula hospital in Palo Alto on Wednesday of last week from an attack of spinal meningitis. The funeral was on Friday. The boy was 14 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Alves. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers and a sister. The boy became ill last week with meningitis and was taken to the hospital for treatment. On Monday serious complications developed which led the physicians in charge to telegraph to the Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley for a special serum. The serum was dispatched to Palo Alto by Capt. Leo H. Dawson, who flew to Stanford landing field in 21 minutes. An operation was preformed early Monday afternoon which, it was hoped, might save the boy's life. Since that time his condition has remained critical and all efforts to save him failed.

On April 20 a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer at the Quinnivere sanitarium at Redwood City. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

Ben Race, charged with selling liquor to a minor at Portola some time ago, pleaded guilty before Judge Buck on Wednesday. His case was submitted to the probation officer who is to report in twenty days.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Greer entertained 185 guests on Sunday at an old-fashioned barbecue, the occasion being their twenty-seventh wedding anniversary. The barbecue was held in the beautiful grove near Woodside, which is a part of the immense acreage once owned by the Greer family. Tables were laid under the trees and ferns and flowers were used as decorations. The "bride's table" was decorated with pink roses, and a huge wedding cake adorned the center of the table. Red Chinese lanterns were strung among the trees, the effect being very charming.

The immense pit was loaded to its capacity with well cooked bull's head, mutton and beef done to a finish. Spanish beans, roasted potatoes, coffee, cake, cheese, olives, pickles and oranges were enjoyed by the guests. After th luncheon, Lucas Greer introduced James Haley of Merced, brother of Mrs. J. Greer. Haley gave a short talk in regard to the early history of the families of "bride and gridegroom," and read an article printed in the Times-Gazette of 27 years ago of the beautiful wedding ceremony when Joseph F. Greer and Miss Mame Haley were united in matrimony.

After his remarks he invited the guests to join in the dancing. A platform had been laid and the musicians furnished some lively music.

Miss Mamie Haley and Joseph F. Greer were married in St. Bridget's church on Wednesday, April 25, 1894 The event was celebrated in this county on the following Tuesday by a barbecue and dance at the ranch of Mr. Greer near Woodside and a ball in Triumph hall at Menlo Park, then his home. Both events will never be forgotten by those who attended. They were the biggest social events in the history of the county. The Times-Gazette gave a full account of them. The article on the marriage was read at the anniversaries and was much enjoyed.

ASSOCIATED AERIES HOLD MEETING IN SO. SAN FRANCISCO

Such wide and enthusiastic interest has developed in the ranks of Eagledom among the membership in the five lodges of the county through the influence and activities of the Associataed Aeries of the county that each monthly meeting attended at the various places seems to outrank the last in the matter of attendance, the class of entertainment and interest shown.

Although the two previous sessions held at Halfmoon Bay and Daly City respectively were humdingers, it would appear from all reports that the reception committee and the officers of the South San Francisco lodge at the meeting held there last Sunday afternoon went them all one better, even beating their own previous records. They not only prepared a feed along the old time lines that was par excellencia but they gave the visiting delegates a very agreeable surprise by having two excellent speakers present to entertain them along the lines of Eagledom and fraternalism in general and as to what the initiative, referendum and recall means to all labor and fraternal organizations who have adopted this plan of handling the affairs of their assications; thus doing away with the politics which naturally develops in most all fraternities and which reacts against the interests of the membership in a great measure at least. Mr. Owens the state president of the organization, gave a splendid talk on the condition of the organization throughout the supreme domain, and in the state of California in particular.

Mr. Owens is a man of fine presence and a very pleasing personality and well fitted for the high position to which he has been elected by the Eagle of California. Mr. Owens was very generous in his praise of the great work the officers and members of San Mateo county are doing in their team work through the Associated Aeries. Mr. Carasco, who is one of the leading officers in the big organization of railway clerks on the Southern Pacific lines gave a fine address and explained very thoroughly the workings of the initiative, referendum and recall as it has been tried out in the organization which he represents and that of others, and the splendid results which accrue from the system in the great satisfaction it gives the membership in knowing that they have a larger say in the affairs of the organization to which they contribute their moral and financial support, which is a wonderful improvement over the old plan where all important matters were delegated to their representatives at the conventions of their respective organizations. Mr. Cararco is also one of the prominent members of the Woodmen of the World which held its convention in Redwood City last year.

The next meeting of the Associated Aeries will be held in San Mateo at Odd Fellows Hall at 2 o'clock p. m. Sunday, May 8th when a large attendance is anticipated.

RAYMOND BENJAMIN CHOSEN FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

News comes from Washington to the effect that Raymond Benjamin, chairman of the State Republican Committee, and regional director for the National Republican Committee, is to be appointed assistant attorney general in charge of oil investigations on the Pacific Coast.

The news is pleasing to Mr. Benjamin's friends in California for they know the splendid work done by him during the last campaign. He displayed wonderful ability and tact in handling the multifarious details of that contest which resulted in an overwhelming victory for President Harding and Senator Shortridge and the whole republican ticket.

Mr. Benjamin is entitled to anything he may ask of the republican party, he has richly earned any honor that may come to him.

The party owes a debt of gratitude to Mr. Benjamin for his able services and his friends are rejoicing in knowing that he will be rewarded by the appointment of assistant attorney general.

The office has been in charge of Henry F. May. The appointment is understood to carry a salary of $12,000 a year, and its incumbent will have charge of all litigation concerning Pacific Coast oil lands.

NO DISCRIMINATION

The Railroad Labor Board at Chicago has reflected the sentiment of the country in its order directing each railroad and its employes to select representatives to confer and decide as much of the controversy over rules as possible. That means that new working agreements will be formulated according to local conditions and not through a national conference of representatives of all the roads and of all the brotherhoods. As a basis for the settlements that may be reached, the Board has laid down 16 principles that must govern. One of them, No. 6, is specially significant. It specifically directs that no agreement shall transgress the principle of the open shop: "No discrimination shall be practiced by management as between members and no members of organizations or as between members of different organizations, nor shall members of organizations discriminate against nonmembers or use other methods than lawful persuasion to secure their membership."

TIGER BACK HOME

Former Premier Clemenceau is back in France after a six months' visit to India. He contemplates an early trip to Australia, and is being urged to visit the United States in the near future. Should he come he will receive the welcome that his services to humanity in the war and in the peace that followed demand. Clemenceau completely outgeneraled and outwitted the man at the head of the American peace delegation, but only because that man had his mind set on but one thing, the league of nations, to the exclusion of everything of interest to the country he was supposed to represent. Clemenceau thought of France and succeeded in writing into the peace treaty clauses of tremendous benefit to his country. He earned the title of "Tiger of France" for his single hearted efforts in behalf of his native land.

SHORTRIDGE AND JOHNSON ARE WORKING IN HARMONY

Last week the San Francisco Bulletin had a front page story with a large scare head announcing that the California Senators at Washington coud not agree upon California patronage. The article maliciously gave the impression that the two Senators were at swords point and that not an appointment could be agreed upon. Nothing could be further from the truth. Senator Shortridge and Senator Johnson are workingin harmony understanding each other in matters pertaining to their state. The following article by C. B. Dodds appearing in the Sunday Chronicle will put at rest all rumors in this respect:

"Outside influence that tried to interfere in the distribution of California patronage has had its fingers badly burned, and straight from the shoulders these emissaries were told that the appointment of Federal officials in California will be made only on the recommendation of the two Senators.

"This inforamtion was imparted in a more diplomatic way in one instance, where strings were pulled on Cabinet officers from a source so high that only a suave answer could avert trouble, but to the lesser lights —some of them in California—the answer was given with a bang.

Senatorial Teamwork.

"Senators Johnson and Shortridge are still maintaining the most amicable relations despite scare-head reports to the contrary emanating from San Francisco. They have 'gone double' on every recommendation made, and quite a few have been made already that have not been acted on by the appointive power because there is no pressing need for great haste and because there are thousands of such matters pending. There is also every indication that the two Californians will continue to work together on all matters affecting their State.

"That the two Senators differed on the ratification of the Colombian treaty is a matter that in no wise affects their personal nor political relations. Each appreciates the right of the other to have views of his own on legislative matters and on foreign relations.

Lesser Appointments Wait.

"The Harding Administration has not made many State appointments yet, due to the more imperative task of filling the higher Washington jobs. It was felt that while the posts of assistant secretaries and commissioners and deputy commissioners in Washington were being filled, the district attorneys and marshals could wait. Moreover, the task of filling all Federal posts throughout the country is a gigantic one and is receiving the careful attention of President Harding and his lieutenants. When these facts are borne in mind the impatience that is being evidenced in some quarters in California may be allayed for only a mighty few State appointments have been made by the President since he took office, and practically none have been made in the West.

"Whenever the Administration is ready to tackle California they will find Senators Johnson and Shortridge ready, too. There isn't enough difference between the two respecting the various appointments to wad a shotgun, and the two men look upon reports to the contrary as tales started by the opposition to stir up trouble at home."

HUGE PRINT PAPER SAVING

An effective plan for securing further economies in the cost of public printing has been devised by Senator George H Moses of New Hampshire. He has introduced a concurrent resolution providing that legislation dealing with pensions, private claims of all kinds, the distribution of war trophies, and all other matters not of a public nature shall be initiated by petition. The petitions are to be referred to the proper committees without printing. When the subject matter shall have been approved by the committee and a report made it will take the form of a bill and be printed in the usual way. At the present time over 700 copies of every private bill introduced in the House and over 800 copies of every private bill introduced in the Senate, are printed when the bill is introduced. In the Congress which came to an end on March 4th about 13,000 such measures were introduced, and the enormous amount of printing involved is apparent. Hardly one per cent of those bills are ever reported separately from committees, all the others that receive favorable consideration being incorporated in so-called omnibus bills, each of which includes scores of measures all relating to the same subject such as pensions. The adoption of the reform suggested by Senator Moses would mean the sawing of the cost of printing of upwards of 8,000,000 copies of bills, most of which under the present system, find their way into waste baskets.

BACK TO THE FARM

The Department of Agriculture estimates that an army of 6,000,000 men is going back to the farms from the cities eager to aid in harvesting the nation's crops. At the present time the supply of farm labor is rated at 95.5 per cent of normal. It is expected that in the wheat belt of the Middle West a mobile force of 50,000 will follow the harvest from Oklahoma north to the Dakotas and Montana. One result of the improved labor situation is the encouragement it gives to farmers to plant bumper crops. All reports indicate that the farmers are putting in large acreages than were expected.

FAIR WARNING TO PROFITEERS

President Harding—"I have said to the people we meant to have less of government in business as well as more business in government. It is well to have it understood that business has a right to pursue its normal, legitimate and righteous way unimpared, and it ought have no call to meet government competition where all risk is borne by the public Treasury. There is no challenge to honest and lawful business success. But government approval of fortunate, untrammeled business does not mean toleration of restraint of trade or of maintained prices by unnatural methods. It is well to have legitimate business understand that a just government, mindful of the interests of all the people, has a right to expect the co-operation of that legitimate business in stamping out the practices which add to unrest and inspire restrictive legislation.

A GREAT REFORM

The heads of executive departments would be given the privileges of the floor of both houses of Congress and the right to participate in debate under the terms of a bill introduced by Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut. The measure follows closely after the system in vogue in the British Parliament. It is a change that ha been advocated by many men as bringing the executive and legislative branches of the Government into closer relation, to the advantage of both.

FREE TOLL THROUGH PANAMA

Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington has introduced a bill providing free passage through the Panama Canal for American ships. The measure is in line with the policy of President Harding as expressed in his speech of acceptance, and marks the beginning of the fight to restore the free tolls provision of the original Panama Canal Act which was repealed in the early days of the former administration.

HIGHWAY POLICY

There can be no highway policy more sound, for the national government as well as for State and local governments, than to insist that no expenditure shall be made for new construction without at the same time adequate provision for maintenance. Millions of dollars have been wasted in the building of roads which were then neglected and permitted to go to ruin. The insane policy has too widely prevailed of withholding repairs until roads become so bad that they can scarcely be travelled upon, and then rebuilding them, or making radical repairs over the entire extent. The reason for this is notorious: It means much larger profits for the contractors who do the work. The rational and economical plan is to build a good road and then, through a patrol system, have it constantly watched and every flaw that appears in it, though no larger than a man's hand, instantly repaired. In that way a road is kept constantly in good condition, and the cost in a series of years is the merest fraction of what it would be under the system of neglect and periodical rebuilding.

Marion Star.—What's so hard for the average layman to understand, is how the Versailles conference hoped to maintain the peace of the world when even the members of the conference were at odds.

The United States is getting along very well without yielding its right of self determination.

It will be time to blame private management of the railroads for the bad conditionse that exist when the managers have been relieved of the burdensome regulations that were fixed upon them during the period of government operation.

FARMER'S SON LOSES FINGER ROPING A HEIFER

Steve Lombardi Jr., eighteen-year-old son of Steve Lombardi, wealthy ranch owner of San Bruno, is today at the Red Cross hospital, San Mateo, suffering intense pain from the loss of two fingers which were torn from his right hand in a most perculiar manner yesterday afternoon.

According to his own statement, young Lombardi met with his painful accident Monday when he was attempting to rope a fractious heifer in the stable yard. He was mounted on one of his favorite cattle ponies and was having an unusual hard time with this particular heifer. He had made several attempts to lasso the stubord animal and it was through a chance catch of the heifer's foot that the rope caught between the rope and the horn of the saddle. The speed of the rope being drawn across the imprisoned member in addition to the tight pull severad one finger and so badly burned another that it had to be amputated at the hospital.

REAL ESTATE MOVING

The University Realty Company reports many sales in the new tract placed upon the market last Saturday. Stanford Weed End Acres is going well and among the buyers are several local people. Units upon a paved highway and running to the center of San Francisquito Creek seem to have an equal appeal both for San Franciscoans and local people. Many motorists realize that it is not necessary to drive across the mountains to get all of the beauty of woods and creek. The great accessibility of the tract is said to be one of its chief attractions.

SAN CARLO SNEWSLETS

All San Carlos were very much surprised when they learned that one of their most popular young batchelors had become a benedict and that the charming young Miss Edna Elefa Gertha of San Francisco had captured the pdize by taking unto herself as husband for better of for worse, Sam E. Schooley, wha has made his home with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Schooley since they moved from San Francisco about two years ago. Mr. S. D. Oke, his uncle seventy-six years old, who has been visiting with his daughter in Toledo Ohio, for the past six months returned home at this time particularly to be present at the wedding of his favorite nephew and namesake. Mr. and Mrs. Schooley are now in Yosemite enjoying their honeymoon. They hanven't definitely decided whether they will make their residence in San Francisco or San Carlos.

Mr. Walter T. Varney, airplane distributor for the western states with one fo his sales managers, Mr. G. D. Oster and his chief pilot, Andy Andrews piloted by Jno. Ford the taxi man of Redwood City, in one of his "safety first" machines, was in San Carlos last Tuesday looking over the hangars and grounds formerly owned by J. Paulding Edwards and the adjoining field belonging to the Phelps estate with a view of buying the hangars and five acres which goes with the buildings and the leasing of the 200 acres belonging to the Phelps estate. If this property can be procured at a reasonable figure for the buildings and the five acres of land and for the lease of the large field it is the intention of Mr. Varney and his associates to establish and conduct one of the largest and most extensive aviation schools in the country here. Mr. Varney has visited all the points along the California coast looking for the most available and practicable location for an institution of this kind and has decided that San Carlos beats them all, in the matter of climatis conditions the extent and lay of the land which is available as a field. Sales Manager Oster has promised Mayor Cowgill and his wife the first aerial trip after their school is established here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Smith from Hinsdale, N. M., who have been seeing California and visiting friends and relatives in various parts of the state the past winter are here for a visit at the home of Mrs. Smith's aunt, Mrs. Mary Hooker Smith prior to their departure for their home in the East. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are seriously considering disposing of their interests in the East and preparing to return to California to live permanently.

Mrs. Howard E. Benson from Jarbridge, Nevada, is visiting at the home of Mrs. M. L. Mussedorffer.

Mrs. Henry Donahue of San Francisco is visiting at the home of Mrs. Fred W. Lippman at Laurel Nook. As Miss Margaret Hoyt, Mrs. Donahue and Mrs. Lippman were girlhood chums in the historic and romantic town of Benicia.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wheaton who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Wheaton's uncle Mr. Fred W. Drake left last Tuesday morning for a month's visit with relatives and friends in Seattle. They left right out of San Carlos with Veteran Captain Geo. H. Zeh of the steamship Queen and will remain with the Captain and his popular boat through to the northern city.

Mr. O. C. Larsen of the Union Iron Works and his family who are occupying temporary quarters on their property near Laurel Nook will begin the construction of their new home just as soon as material arrives on the ground.

Jno. V. Clark has completed his basement and garage on his property at the corner of Cedar and Cherry streets where he will soon start the building of a new bungalow into which he will move from his large two-and-a-half story home on Elm street, which he built and has occupied for the past thirty years. From plans and specifications Mr. Clark will have one of the most convenient and picturesque bungalows in San Carlos when finished. Mr. Clark never does anything by halves.

The likable Milton K. Smith who was so popular during his residence with his mother, Mrs. W. D. Smith, here was in San Carlos seeing old friends one day last week. Mr. Smith is now in the show business and has had a stock company on the road and playing in the Bay Cities for the past two or three years and is making a great success in his chosen profession. He was accompanied by a Miss Alexander, one of the charming members of his company whom he was treating to an auto trip, seeing the sights around the bay. It is not known whether Mr. Smith is partial to Miss Alexander or if he treats all of the young Misses in his company in this delightful way. Young Paul Smith, a brother, is also one of the actors in Mr. Smith's troup. The brothers both make their home with their mother, Mrs. W. D. Smith, sister of Joh nA. Britton, in Oakland.

As San Carlos has proven to be the center of circumference on this side of the globe some weeks ago the Federal Wireless Telegraph Company of San Francisco decided to establish an important wireless branch here, owing to our advantageous location in the equator, making the working of the very delicate apparatus connected with the wireless pragtically perfect in this almost equable climate throughout the year. This wireless station keeps San Carlos in touch with the whole outside world, but we are not at liberty to allow any of these news items to pass beyond the portals of our little city. The wireless station is established in the Ohio Building.

The beautiful bungalow being built for Frank Dittman, the art goods man of San Francisco on the hillside near the Paulsen residence will soon be completed and ready for Mr. Dittman and his family to move in to. The Dittmans will also retain their residence in San Francisco and come to San Carlos for the week-ends.

The material has already been placed on the ground by the Gray Thorning Lumber Company of Redwood City for a home to be built for Mr. A. J. Buneman of San Francisco by Ben Zimmerman, the San Carlos contarctor.

Looking back through the years when it appeared that the knocks of the outside real estate element appeared to have some influence with the folks who were looking for home sites down the peninsula and when our advancement was snail like from the present outlook it would now seem that every knock has proven a boost, and that the "stone which was rejected has become the head of the corner" scripturally speaking.

The improvements on the state highway in this section is nearing completion and it will only be a short while until we will have one of the finest stretches of roadway to be found in any section of the state. Were it not for the great inconvenience attaching to having the highway torn up at the intersection of our streets we would regret to see the work finished by which we will lose the headquarters of the resident engineer, the genial Geo. W. Wade and his amiable foreman, Mr. R. L. Bate and his popular time-keeper Mr. K. E. Hosier.

Mr. A. Dennery the painter who recently branched out for himself as a contracting painter and whose first contract was for the painting of the ten new bungalows for the San Carlos Land Company, has proven his fine workmanship in the painting of the Winter residence and the Cowgill bungalow which he has just completed along with two of the new bungalows. Mr. Dennery will also paint the old Elvin place on Brewster street in Redwood for the Cowgills.

We noted in last week's press where the Redwood depot of the S. P. had been awarded a medal as perfection in the matter of a cleanly station. This happens so regularly at San Carlos that we had forgotten to mention it. This is the particular reason that the station is considered the civic center of our delightful city and where the mayor has his headquarters.

Mr. Victor Vurpillet of San Francisco has purchased property on Walnut street just south of Cherry where he expects to build a home within the near future.

The elegant home of Mr. Chas. McNeil on Chestnut street just off Cypress avenue, near Mr. G. F. Walker's substantial and artistic brick residence, under the splendid workmanship of M. R. Russell, the Redwood carpenter, assisted by Roy Duncan, another of Redwood's fine mechanics, is nearing completion and will soon be ready for Mr. McNeil and family to move into. Mr. McNeil has charge of the government transport docks in San Francisco, and although he has an elegant home in Alameda he prefers to commute from San Carlos and has been occupying one of the Powers' apartments for several months while his new home was in progress of construction.

Mr. Lloyd C. Zook who recently sold his new home to Mr. Otto of the Underwood Typewriter Company, has moved into the Lippman summer cottage while he is arranging plans for a new home to be built on his vacant property near the bungalow he just sold. Mr. Zook is in the employ of the Morse Seed Company at their trial gardens here.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Mr. and Mrs. David J. Buckley and children who removed to San Francisco from Oregon recently have taken a house at Palo Alto. Mr. Buckley was here last month in search of a house but could not find one and had to go to the College City. He lived in the MacBain house here several years ago. Mr. Buckley is vice-president and manager of the University Engineering Company of San Francisco. His wife is a daughter of the late Patrick Dundon, who was up until his death president of the Dundon Bridge Building Company Another daughter is married to Dr David Stafford, brother of Mrs. J. J Murray of Stanford Park.

The E. W. Hopkins residence on Oak Grove avenue has been painted and has also undergone repairs preparatory to being occupied by Mrs. Warren B. Clark, a niece of Mr. Hopkins. She occupied the place last year. Mr. and Mrs. Clark only recently returned from a trip to Honolulu. The Clarks are lavish entertainers and during the coming season are to entertain considerably.

Lindsay P. Grey and wife and F R. Kempff and wife left yesterday for Los Angeles to be absent for ten days. They will motor to the sunny southland.

P. W. Selby has completed plans for a pretty home to be constructed on his property in the Selby tract at Atherton not far from the site of the old Selby home that was destroyed by fire some years ago. The new home will be erected near the scenes of Mr. Selby's childhood and where his father, the late Thomas Selby, entertained notable men of international fame in the early seventies and when he was mayor of San Francisco.

Leon Douglass, who recently purchased the Payne place on Valparaiso avenue, was here during the week looking over the property. He contemplates erecting a $25,000 garage at once and making other improvements.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Heller and their charming children have opened their pretty home at Atherton. Mr. Heller is one of the best known attorneys in San Francisco. He is a member of the firm of Heller Ehrman, White and McAuliffe.

The Menlo Shoe Store starts a clearance sale today. A big cut is to be made in all kinds of footwear Consult their prices. See advertisement in this paper. It will pay you to investigate these prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Heller have taken the Gourilia home on Atherton avenue. Mrs. Heller was formerly Miss Sheeline. The young couple were recently married. The owner of the property is a wealthy coffee planter of South America who spent last summer here. It is quite possible that the Hellers may buy the property.

Miss Compton, a pretty Miss of the Metropolis is a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. John MacBain.

Little Golda Dalton has come home from the Peninsula hospital where she underwent a slight operation the fore part of the week. Her father is the chef at the William Warren School.

Any Palo Alto residents who may have entertained fears some months ago that the presence of the Government Hospital here would be a menace to health because of the contagious cases likely to be kept there should find a comforting offset in the statement by local doctors that the laboratories and other facilities of the hospital are of great use in handling some emergency situations for which the community is not equipped otherwise.

A recent epidemic of scarlet fever at a private school nearby overtaxed the facilities of the medical men, and the hospital's laboratory appointments were depended upon in handling the emergency. The hospital has been of similar use in other cases, not all of which become publicly known. The institution, therefore, instead of proving a source of disease has added forcefully to the community's means of stamping out and averting maladies.—Palo Alto Times.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jsans have been passing the week in Menlo Park at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. William Cluff, whose home is on Glenwood avenue.

Charles Meyer of Reno was here on Wednesday calling on friends. Mr. Meyers conducted a saloon here many years ago, the resort being a meeting place for Stanford students. Many of the young men who met there in the old and moist days of long ago have since become prominent in the affairs of the nation.

Henry Faber and Frank Derry have arrived home from Stockton where they attended the annual meeting of the Grand Parlor, Native Sons. The session was very successful and the young men had a delightful time They represented Menlo Parlor.

Mrs. Cora Parker having resided in the metropolis all winter has opened her pretty and cosy cottage on El Camino Real. She plans many house parties during the summer months.

Mrs. Loughlin, wife of the assistant station agent here, has been appointed as an assistant teacher in the Menlo Park school department for the remainder of the term.
